Will Hartman and Tyler Mawhinney Win the 2025 Championship

One year after Asterisk Talley became the first member of the U.S. National Junior Team to claim a USGA title, two more talented teens from the same program became national champions.

Will Hartman, 18, of Charlotte, N.C., and Tyler Mawhinney, 17, of Fleming Island, Fla., who were part of the inaugural class of 18 players – 10 girls and eight boys – chosen for this select squad as part of the USGA's National Development Program, defeated reigning U.S. Mid-Amateur champion Evan Beck, 34, of Virginia Beach, Va., and Dan Walters, 40, of Winston-Salem, N.C., 3 and 1, in Wednesday's 18-hole final of the 10th U.S. Amateur Four-Ball Championship at Plainfield Country Club.

Their victory, which comes with exemptions into this year's U.S. Amateur at The Olympic Club and U.S. Junior Amateur at Trinity Forest, came a year after Blades Brown – another ex-USNJT member who turned pro earlier this year – fell in the final of this championship with partner Jackson Herrington.

Hartman, a 2025 Vanderbilt University signee, and Mawhinney, the 2024 Canadian Amateur champion who has verbally committed to join his partner at the Nashville, Tenn., school in 2026, became the fourth teens to win this championship. All five of their matches went to hole 17 or beyond; the 92 holes it took to take the title was a U.S. Amateur Four-Ball record, three more than Kiko Francisco Coelho and Leopoldo Herrera III needed in 2021 at Chambers Bay.

This was the fourth USGA final for Beck, who lost in the final of the 2008 U.S. Junior Amateur and 2023 U.S. Mid-Amateur before defeating Bobby Massa in last year's U.S. Mid-Amateur at Kinloch Golf Club outside of Richmond, Va. At No. 31 in the World Amateur Golf Ranking®/WAGR®, he is the highest-ranked mid-amateur in the world and a strong candidate to represent the USA in the 50th Walker Cup Match at Cypress Point in September. Walters, who was an assistant coach at Wake Forest during Beck's time at the traditional Atlantic Coast Conference powerhouse and now works for a Baltimore-based paper and packaging company, was competing in his first USGA final.

Today, though, it was the teens' time to shine.

"It still hasn't quite set in yet," said Hartman, a semifinalist in the 2023 U.S. Junior Amateur at Daniel Island Club. "We finished about 30 minutes ago. But I think looking back on it tonight, it's going to be pretty cool. It's something that we'll remember forever."

Added Mawhinney: "I'll piggyback on what [Will] said, but it will definitely be something we'll remember for a long time and something we can tell our kids or our grandkids."

With temperatures in the 50s – the wind-chills were in the upper 40s – intermittent sideways rain and winds gusting into the mid-20s, the conditions for Wednesday's semifinals and title match were more like Muirfield than Plainfield. Neither Mawhinney nor Hartman are accustomed to these elements, and Beck and Walters couldn't recall playing a USGA championship in such a chilly environment.

"It was challenging, there's no question about it," said Walters. "It felt like Scotland or Ireland."

"I'm not aware exactly of their [playing] record, but they obviously played some great golf today. They hit some better shots in the last six, eight holes, and obviously we were 1 up through nine. Yeah, we got beat on the back nine. Hats off to them. It was wonderful to be in this situation, and hopefully we can be there again."

Walters and Beck bogeyed the fourth hole to go 1 down, but then claimed the next two holes with a birdie and par, and carried that lead into the second nine, thanks to Beck draining a 30-footer for birdie on the ninth after Mawhinney executed a perfect 60-degree flop shot to 2 feet for a conceded 3 on the 340-yard par 4.

Mawhinney and Hartman turned the tide with a winning par on the 145-yard 11th hole, and then took the lead for good when the latter executed a perfect bunker shot on the 295-yard 13th hole to 2 feet for a birdie. One hole later, Mawhinney's laser 7-iron approach from 194 yards stopped 9 feet from the flagstick and his birdie putt rolled around the lip before dropping to give the side a 2-up advantage. Mawhinney also hit gorgeous 6-irons on the par-3 15th and par-4 16th from 160 and 190 yards, respectively, in the swirling wind that wound up being pars to tie the holes. Still, they maintained the momentum.

Beck kept the match going with a clutch 9-foot par save on No. 16, but when he missed his 6-footer for par on the 500-yard, par-4 17th, Mawhinney's 3-foot par putt was conceded. Hats came off and the two dad-caddies, Joe Mawhinney and Fred Hartman, high-fived and hugged like they had just won the title.

"Evan was a stud," said Hartman of his older opponent. "He played great today. He showed why he's one of the best mid-ams in the world and it was fun playing him. He didn't hold anything back, and I think that makes this win feel a little bit better."

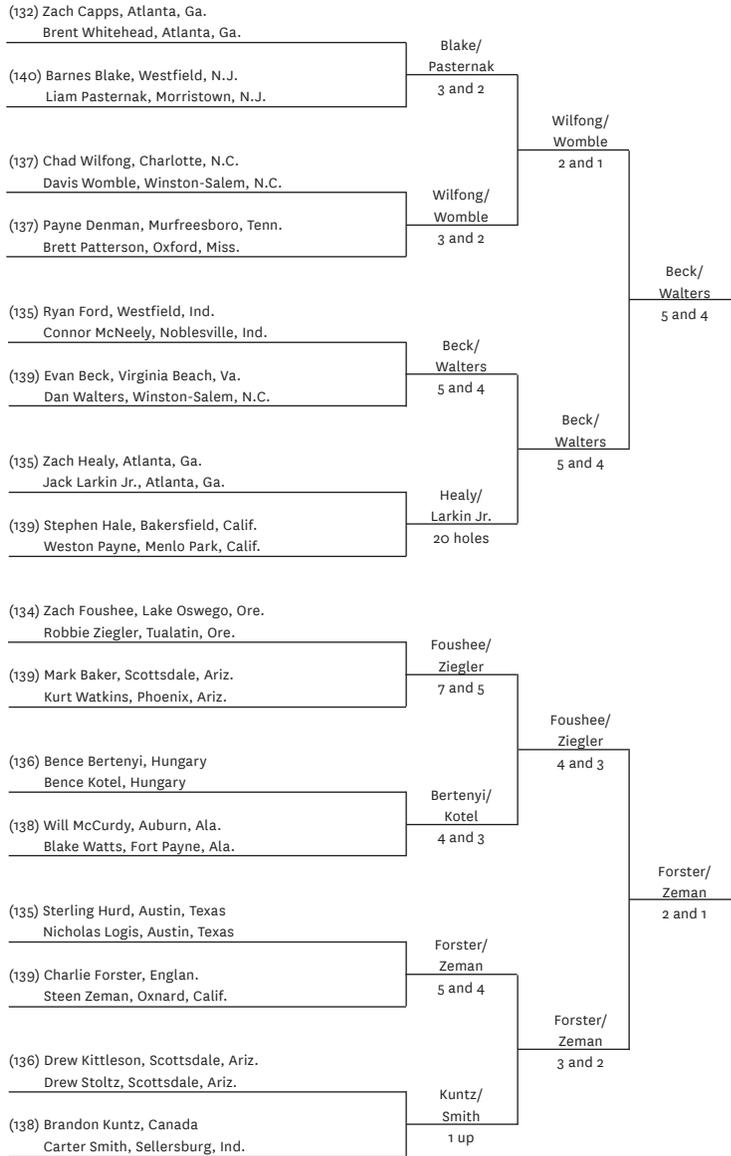

After a brief trophy presentation on the 17th green, the champions immediately retired to the clubhouse, where they did media, signed flags and enjoyed some hot chocolate. U.S. National Development Team coaches Chris Zambri and Tiffany Joh likely did a victory toast back in Pinehurst, N.C.

Talley played in three USGA finals in 2024 as well as shared low-amateur honors in the 2024 U.S. Women's Open. Tyler Watts lost in the 2024 U.S. Junior Amateur final, and Trevor Gutschewski, who joined the USNJT in March, won the '24 Junior. And now Hartman and Mawhinney are in that select fraternity.

"I think it's given me confidence," said Hartman. "I'm sure it's given Tyler confidence...It's a great honor, and I think the fact that we were on it just gave us confidence."

Championship History

The U.S. Amateur Four-Ball Championships were first played in 2015 but the genesis of these USGA competitions was years in the making.

As part of its mission to provide the best in national championship competition, the USGA began the process of developing and deploying these championships at the suggestion of Mike Davis, who served as the USGA's chief executive officer from 2011-21.

Through extensive research and cooperation from the nation's many state and regional golf associations, the planning and implementation by the USGA's Rules & Competitions department produced a proposal to the Executive Committee, which was passed and ultimately announced at the USGA Annual Meeting in San Diego in 2013.

"We couldn't be more excited about the creation of national four-ball championships, given the popularity and enjoyment of this competitive format at the amateur level," said USGA Vice President and Championship Committee Chairman Thomas J. O'Toole Jr., at the time of the announcement. "Because the four-ball format lends itself to spirited team competition and aggressive risk-reward shotmaking, we are confident these championships will deliver exciting amateur golf to the national stage for both players and spectators alike."

In 2012, more than 150 championships, either strictly four-ball or as part of a competition format, were conducted in all 50 states and the District of Columbia.

The first two sites for each championship were announced in July of 2013: 2015 Four-Ball at The Olympic Club in San Francisco, Calif., and 2016 Four-Ball at Winged Foot Golf Club in Mamaroneck, N.Y. and the 2015 Women's Four-Ball at Bandon Dunes Golf Resort in Bandon, Ore., and the 2016 Women's Four-Ball at Streamsong Resort in Streamsong, Fla.

It marked the first time in 25 years, since the establishment of the U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur in 1987, that the USGA had added a new championship.

The establishment of the Four-Ball championships was first and foremost a reflection of the Association's continued commitment to supporting and growing amateur competition well into the future. A critical factor was that four-ball is a very popular event, not only at the club level, but through our state and regional golf associations (now Allied Golf Associations) who conduct championships like this every year and have for many years.

This format, more than most other formats, promotes camaraderie and perhaps players traveling together. The risk-reward element involved in two balls in play on each hole can produce some exciting golf and likely more birdies and eagles, which is attractive to competitors and fans.

In the inaugural year, 2015, the Four-Ball championships were the first USGA competitions to be televised by the Association's then broadcast partner, Fox Sports, with both championships receiving four hours of live broadcast coverage.

In 2020, the U.S. Amateur Four-Ball was canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.
